

We believe in the power of the sun! In fact, we are very proud to say the servers running this website are powered 100% by clean solar energy!

As an independent energy consulting and solar integration firm, OnForce Solar is committed to providing our customers with the smartest, highest-quality and most efficient solar energy systems available. We service businesses and homeowners in New Jersey, New York and Connecticut.

At OnForce Solar we stay ahead of the ever-changing technology curve and are experts in the latest solar and renewable energy advancements and technologies. Our customers trust that working with us will provide them with the most innovative and cost effective solutions on the market today.

We look forward to sharing our expertise and to working with you to find the ideal solar energy system for your home or business. Most importantly, we look forward to enabling you to save real money by harnessing the power of the sun. Our goal is to provide you with the highest possible return on your renewable energy investment. We will show you in detail how solar energy will outperform the major stock indexes, certificates of deposit and just about any other investment; year after year and regardless of the macroeconomic climate. As long as the sun rises, solar energy will provide a significant return on investment; while hedging against the inevitable increases in the cost of electric and fossil fuels.

We invite you to explore our site and learn about the very real cost-savings that solar energy can provide.

Request a free site analysis of your home or business today!